

Polttopallo

Overview:

A high-energy variation of dodgeball played in teams across a divided court. The objective is to eliminate all opponents by hitting them with the ball or catching their throws.

Setup:

- Divide players into two equal teams, each standing on their own side of the court.
- Place the ball(s) along the center line.

Gameplay:

1. The Opening Rush

- Both teams line up at their back-end lines.
- On the signal, players sprint to the center line to grab the ball(s) and retreat back behind their attack line before throwing.

2. Throwing and Eliminating

- Players throw the ball at opponents on the other side of the court.
- If a player is hit directly by an opponent's throw, they are "out" (palanut) and must leave the main court area.

3. Catching the Ball

- If a player cleanly catches an incoming throw before it touches the ground:
- The thrower who threw the ball is "out" and must leave the court.

Winning:

The first team to eliminate all players on the opposing team wins.
